

SALT LAKE HERALD.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

BY THE HERALD PUBLISHING CO.

WITH OUR COMPLIMENTS.

Every regular advertising patron of THE SALT LAKE DAILY HERALD will, by calling at the counting room, be given a serviceable and handsome present.

To Advertisers.

THE HERALD has the largest circulation in Utah. It is a visitor to more homes in this territory and the surrounding region than any other newspaper published. Its constituency comprises more heads of families than any other, and it is therefore the best advertising medium in Salt Lake.

BRIEF AND BREEZY.

THE hearing in the case of Mr. Druce, charged with criminal libel, will be concluded before Commissioner Greenman today.

It is said that George D. Penhale will submit a final and bona fide bid for the purchase of the house at the meeting of the city council tonight.

THE World's fair male chorus held a rehearsal last night. In the absence of Professor Stephens, who was indisposed, Professor Daynes conducted.

THE police force having been curtailed eight men below the limit, Mayor Beaman figures that he is saving the city $500 per month by this bit of retrenchment.

HOLT & SONS, sub-contractors on the gravity sewer, who have been "standing off" their men for some time, paid all time checks yesterday in city warrants.

MARRIAGE licenses were yesterday issued to Noah W. McChrystal, aged 23, of Eureka and Estella Lafitte, aged 19, of Salt Lake; Samuel E. Holt, aged 24, and Margaret G. Beckstead, aged 19, both of West Jordan.

J. A. YEATMAN is rejoicing over the arrival of his family circle of a 10-pound girl baby. The arrival took place at 12:30 o'clock Monday morning and the happy father was treating the boys to cigars all day yesterday.

THE KESLER, whose bald pate recently illuminated the police court, was today donned the ermine again, and is laying his plans accordingly, and he vows by the "great horned spoon" to make it interesting for the audience when he turns him from his lofty throne before, if they "monkey" with him this time.

ANOTHER case of distress is reported. A. B. Chisler, who resides at 29 Thornton avenue, on West Fifth South street, has been unable to obtain employment for some time and in consequence the family is suffering for necessities. Donations in the shape of provisions, clothing or bedding will be thankfully received. There are eight children in the family and two of them are sick.

BETWEEN 9 and 10 o'clock yesterday morning the work in room 303 McCormick building, caught fire from an electric wire and an alarm turned in. The demand responded quickly, but the service of the firemen were not required, the blaze being extinguished with a bucket of water. If the fire had occurred at night the result would have been serious.

DR. BALDWIN, one of the leading lights of the Provo summer school, was at Garfield with the teachers Saturday, and he thinks that the bathing is the finest in the world. THE LIBERAL POLITICIANS.

A City Committee Placed in the Field.

HEADED BY JAKE MORITZ.

Sanpete Armstrong Is Selected as Secretary.

Jake Greenwald, Hank Barnes, John Axton, Jr., and A. M. Grant the other members—Candidates for Mayor—Colorado Contingent Will Be Ignored.

The remnants of the Tuscaroras and the other patriots for revenue only, have nailed their skull-and-cross-bones banner to the mast once more, and are preparing for another tilt at the windmill.

The record of extravagance and incompetency made by the present administration, together with the departmental squabbling that has characterized its beginning with January and ending with Ryan, have had a discouraging effect upon the patriots, who concluded that it would be the part of wisdom to get in the field early and begin the task of unraveling the tangled political threads.

As a consequence, the following committee has been selected to manage the fall campaign:

Chairman—Jake Moritz, Secretary—Sanpete Armstrong, First Precinct—J. J. Greenwald, Second Precinct—H. B. Barnes, Third Precinct—Hank Barnes, Fourth Precinct—John Axton, Jr., Fifth Precinct—A. M. Grant.

The committee was organized at the meeting of the city council last night, and the second precinct, but the understanding is that the labor element will be allowed to name him.

CANDIDATES TALKED OF. "As to candidates the woods are full of them."

A man most talked of for mayor is Banker McCormick, but it is said on pretty good authority, that he will not accept the nomination for that or any position in the liberal ticket.

W. P. Noble is also mentioned in connection with the nomination and in a fair fight would stand a chance of getting it. Judge Lofthouse, the president of the council, is also mentioned as a possible candidate, while Jim Gledinning it is said, would not object to heading the ticket.

It is also rumored that P. J. Moran would consent to step into the shoes of the late Mayor Beaman, but he would consent to run again, but nobody thinks he has a ghost of a show, as he has shown himself to be altogether too honest to suit the crowd he trains with.

THE COLORADO CONTINGENT. A determined effort will be made to knock out the Colorado contingent, and Fred Leonard may find his grip broken. If it should turn out so, Judge Colburn's chance for the nomination will be gone.

Charles Stanton wants another chance at the rectorship. His only rival up to date is J. L. Frank, the president of the federated trades.

If Stanton gets the nomination for treasurer again, he will know he has been in a fight. Chris Diehl is after it and has strong support.

Chris Diehl is probably the candidate for marshal, although C. M. Jackson is fixing his fences.

CLEAN SWEEP IN THE COUNCIL. It is the general belief among the liberals that there will be a clean sweep of their representatives in the council, although several of the councilmen are willing to succeed themselves. C. P. Mason, it is said, might be induced to accept a nomination, and Matt Walker has been approached, but not successfully.

As a sop to Cerberus, the liberals will in all probability nominate Joseph M. Lapsley for the council, to represent the workmen on the ticket.

A CYCLONE COMING. Meanwhile the wrath of the taxpayers over the two things being run, is growing, and by the time election day rolls around will have developed into a cyclone that will sweep the spoilsmen and their party into the grave of oblivion.

A BROTHER'S TRIBUTE. "An Honest Man, the Noblest Work of God."

William D. Roberts, a brother of the late Bolivar Roberts, in a brief outline of the latter's life says: "Bolivar was born in Winchester, Scott county, Ill., on July 4, 1841. He moved with the family to California, Iowa, in 1845 and came to Utah in 1850 and in company with my father and myself went to California in the spring of 1852. He returned to Utah by the southern route in 1853, and after settling in Schuler county, Mo., where I remained in California. When the war broke out between the Indians and Chief Black Hawk and the settlers, Bolivar volunteered and served for several years faithfully through all those troublesome times. Afterwards he visited mother and myself in California. He found me in the southwest quarter of section 34, township 37 south, and lot 1 and the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 3, township 18 north, range 12 west.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Fred Simon Brings Encouraging News from Washington.

SENTIMENT IS CHANGING.

Mighty Change in Favor of the White Metal.

Legislation Favorable to Silver Seems Certain—Salt Lake Is in Better Shape Financially Than Any Eastern City—Business and Mining News.

Mr. Fred Simon returned from the east after an absence of over a month and brings encouraging reports in regard to the present financial situation in the east and the pending silver legislation at Washington. To a HERALD reporter Mr. Simon expressed his views in the following interview:

"The financial and business situation in New York City is such that neither the bankers or the merchants could stand the present pressure for another thirty days. The volume of western business has been cut down nearly three-quarters and of the eastern at least one-half. On that account all importers have, wherever possible, countermanded their orders placed with European manufacturers, which proves that the boomers are not at the west but not only hit back at the east but is making its rebounding force felt across the waters."

"I am not at all surprised that the situation in the city of New York is such that it is not only making its rebounding force felt across the waters, but is making its rebounding force felt across the waters."
